By Jasmine Jeffresson, Amayel Ndiaye and Nogaye Kane

The « Section Internationale Américaine » is an American, international program for bilingual English speakers or students with a good level. Our teacher, Mr. Meade, teaches us Social Studies and American literature.

It seems serious said like this, but this class is in fact very, very special. Mr. Meade teaches with fun: he organizes activities (we are currently studying the ideal society, and are playing a video game), Demonstrations (with the ideal society comes the ideal government : we watched Donald Trump, Joe Biden and Kanye West's campaign videos - before making our own !)

And much, much more...

Two others of our classes are linked to the section : English (with Mrs. Bonvallet), and History Geography in French (with Mrs. Bassoka).

Interviews

We asked teachers and students what their opinion was on the SIA.

1. How would you define the SIA ?
2. What is (or are) your favourite memories within the SIA ?

Students :

1. A class where we learn in a different, fun way !
- 2.-When Mr. Meade gave us Crisps !
  - When we celebrated Thanksgiving in class !
  - that time he gave us posters and cool cups
  - When he came as a cowboy in class !
  - simply how we thought that Mr. Meade was weird at first but ended up loving him !

Mrs. Bonvallet :

1. A dynamic class with curious and open-minded students
2. I like the debates and discussions in class. The students' opinions are interesting !

Mrs. Bassoka :

1. I think it's a great opportunity for bicultural options and sharing.

WHAT IS CLIMATE CHANGE ?

Climate change is a long-term shift in weather conditions identified by changes in temperature, precipitation, winds, and other indicators. Climate change can involve both changes in average conditions and changes in variability, including, for example, extreme events.

BY HABSATOU SOW

By Rania Bouagja

WHAT ARE THE CAUSES OF CLIMATE CHANGE?

Climate change does have natural causes like changes in solar radiance or volcanic activity but those are only short term and may differ the climate in only certain spots.

The most important cause of climate change and mostly environmental issues is humans with deforestation, burning fossil fuel, converting land from forest to agriculture, anything that includes carbon dioxide which is one of the most important climate forcers that causes the greenhouse effect. The greenhouse effect makes the earth warmer, just as a greenhouse is warmer than its surroundings.

Youngsters and Global Warming

by Sarah-Lou Brillie

Global Warming is now a worldwide issue and it affects everyone.

Youngsters play a very important role in Global Warming. It has been proved that they constitute the majority of the population in many countries. They have an increasing, strong, social and environmental awareness which has the power to transform our society towards a climate resilient future.

Journalists asked American kids what they thought or needed, to help with the issue of climate change.

-84% of the kids need more information about what's happening in the world

-73% actually feel the impact of climate change and want to do something to help

-Only 9% are confident the world will act quick enough to address Climate Change.

Over the course of history, the Earth's climate has changed several times. The difference is that this time, Earth's atmosphere is warming as a result of human activity. It is late but not too late to stop global warming. We can help to slow it down, so it doesn't destroy human civilization in the next hundreds of years. Indeed, life on Earth will likely persist with or without humans. What is at stake is simply the future of human beings on the planet.

Here are some things you can do:

Use reusable water and coffee cups

Air dry your hairs and clothes

Take short showers

Recycle

Bring your own bag when shopping

Let's not destroy our Earth please!!

KOALAS ARE SAVED

By Maia HANIN

Koalas headed home after being rescued from the Australia fires at the end of the year 2019.

Lots of animal habitats were destroyed by the fires along with 1 million hectares of bushland. Money was donated from all around the world to help animals, like koalas which were badly affected by the fires.

Thousands of koalas had to be taken to similar animal hospitals for treatment and rehabilitation because of burns and other injuries sustained in the bushfires, which ravaged more than 110 000 square kilometres across the continent.

Georgia's sunshine no more ?

By Lena Didenot

In 2017, a massive chunk of ice called « A68a » broke off from Antarctica. This iceberg is the biggest one in the world and through satellites, the scientists keep track of it and it seems like it is heading towards the British Overseas Territory of South Georgia in the southern Atlantic Ocean.

« A68a » is a similar size to the county of Somerset, so 4,200 square Km and weighs hundreds of billions of tonnes. Scientists worry that the iceberg could get stuck and stay there for up to ten years because of its size which would affect the routes that penguins and seals use to hunt for their young.

If they have to do a big detour, they might not be back in time to feed their babies who would starve to death. The scientists have hope though !

If the massive chunk of ice heads northwards, it could start to break up as it gets into rougher and warmer waters. One good thing is that with its size, it brings a lot of dust that will fertilise ocean plankton, which is food to some animals.

Acts you can do against climate change or to protect the Earth

By Mia FAIVRE-CERVEAU

Protecting our planet is important and here are some reasons why:

- You are going to live on this earth for the rest of your life
- Our future generation are going to live here too
- And animals! Aren't they cute? Don't you want to save them?

There is a lot more of reasons to justify the fact that you have to protect this planet. So now that you understand (I hope) the importance of protecting/saving the planet Earth, here are some tips to do it:

TALK:

talk to your friends and family! Influence them to protect the earth too and pay more attention to the environment!

FOOD:

buy fresh, local and season food. Limit as much as possible frozen food. When you are at school or even outside school, use a recyclable water bottle or a reusable one. Eat less meat (I know it's hard) but it doesn't mean you have to stop eating it.

PLANTS:

Plant trees or plants in your garden or in pots so you can put them on your balcony or in your apartment. You can also participate to the school activities against pollution and climate change.

PAPER:

Try to use less paper and don't use it for silly things (sending notes in class ). You can also recycle some little bits of paper so you can use them to draw or other things you do with paper. And last but not least print on both sides (when you can).

For local and season food, you can search on internet for "Clubs" like Club Kossam

How do you define feminism?

By Roukiatou Hott and Coumba Seye

Feminism is about all genders having equal rights and opportunities. It's also about respecting diverse women's experiences, identities, knowledge and strengths and striving to empower all women to realize their full rights. Feminism is a range of social movements, political movements and ideology.

GENDER STEREOTYPES: HOW DO TEENS FACE THESE SOCIAL PROBLEMS?

BY Marie Angèle Diouf and Mariétou Andre

Gender stereotypes (also called gender stereotypes) are "schematic and holistic representations of what girls and boys are and are not,

WHAT IS GIRLS AND BOYS EQUALITY?

Equality is making sure that boys and girls are treated the same and have the same opportunities in life. A child should therefore not have to act in a particular way or have limits placed on them just because they are a boy or a girl.

AVOIDING GENDER STEREOTYPES

Despite the progress made in terms of equality, gender stereotypes are still very much present and influence the way girls and boys look at them. Unintentionally, this can cause adults to treat children differently depending on their gender.

When stereotypes are repeated, children often understand that acting stereotypically is the normal way to behave. For example, girls may understand that they cannot play soccer because "it's a boy's sport" and boys may not dare ask for a doll as a game because "it's for girls"

Jasmine's Speech

Sexism and gender inequality are problems that women face every single day. While men have the fair lives they have always had, women don't all have access to the unalienable(undeniable) rights they should have.

Why this injustice?

Why do these stereotypes from years ago still exist?

A woman is as strong and smart as a man, why doesn't everybody know that?

So many questions, but nothing to justify this injustice.

Nothing to justify the difficulty of the lives of women today.

Nothing to justify the constant fear that all women feel, in the streets, at work...

But what people should know is that a woman isn't just a "woman".

Women can be strong, powerful, and most of all: fighters.

Fighters that can, that will, lead a combat until they get the rights that they deserve.

HOW TO FIX YOUR SLEEP

By Keryann Bobillier

As someone that has problems of sleep as most of you know, I think these tips will help you. Being sleep-deprived will cause the malfunction of the brain, kill brain cells, make you angry and the list goes on but back to the tips :

- ① You should have a regular sleep schedule. By doing this your brain and body will get used to getting up at that time and you will not feel tired.
- ② You should not drink water before going to bed, it makes you more awake.
- ③ You should not get in your bed before you are ready to go to sleep that will prevent your body to get used to the bed and help you fall asleep easily.

School and mental illness

by Khadija Kagnassi

College student mental health issues continue to increase, with depression and anxiety among the most common psychiatric disabilities.

Mental health awareness is an important issue for all educators, who are often the first line of defense for their students.

What are the causes of mental illness? And how does school affect mental health? How to face it?

Mental disorders (or mental illnesses) are conditions that affect your thinking, feeling, mood and behavior. They may be occasional or long-lasting (chronic). They can affect your ability to relate to others and to function each day.

There are many different types of mental disorders. Some common ones include

- Anxiety disorders, including panic disorder, obsessive-compulsive disorder, and phobias
- Depression, bipolar disorder, and other mood disorders
- Eating disorders
- Personality disorders
- Post-traumatic stress disorder
- Psychotic disorders, including schizophrenia

Many kids experience some level of stress or anxiety in social situations they encounter in school and students spend approximately 900 hours per year in school.

Students see their teachers and classmates as well, if not, more often than their families.

A survey by the American Psychological Association found that nearly half of all teens -45 percent said they were stressed by school pressures.

If there is a mismatch between student and teacher, a child can form lasting negative feelings about school or his own abilities.

School Nationwide, 19% of students in grades 9-12 report being bullied on school property in the 12 months prior to the survey. Victims often feel lonely. Some victims may fight back with extreme, sudden violence.

Stopbullying.gov reports that in 12 of 15 school shootings, the shooters had been bullied. Bullies are at higher risk for antisocial, sometimes violent behaviors like getting into fights and destroying property. They often have problems with school, up to and including dropping out.

Lycee Français Jean Mermoz has a School Psychologist. The role of a school psychologist is to exercise "psychological control over the students'. This function is to be understood as a concern to better apprehend the students' way of learning, to detect those who are most in difficulty and to offer them a follow-up. The teachers themselves have a protocol concerning students with mental illness, they differ according to the illness. The world is changing and mentalities are changing little by little, people are becoming more and more aware of the subject and inform initiatives such as the moderators or the World Mermoz High School Days are put in place to reassure students and send positive messages of support to those in complicated situations. So if you read these words and you are in one of the situations remember « Don't forget you are not alone, there are people to help you ! »

Our new school psychologist in LFJM is Julie Daniel. She meets students or their families only on Thursdays between 8 a.m – 3.30 pm on Fridays between 11 a.m –3.30p.m

What is bullying ?

By Yelly Ndiaye

My definition of Bullying it is when someone takes advantage of your physically or mentally. It doesn't only affect the victim of the bully but also everyone around them may encourage the people around watching to become bullies.

Why Should we stop ?

We should stop bullying . Bullying has been an exceeding issue over the years... it is about time to make it stop! Bullying affects everyone not just the victims but the bullies and everyone surrounding them. The numbers of kids that are starting to become victims as bullies are increasing. Nobody likes a bully and being one just makes matters worse. Bullying is a major problem that we haven't been able to stop every year .More and more people become bullied at school and online, if we take a stand against bullying and not encourage dit.

I believe that we can put an end to it !

GEN Z TRENDS

Generation Z commonly known as Gen Z are people who were born between 1997 and 2012. There are many trends and some people grew up with them.

Vine 2013-2016

The iconic app created by Twitter in 2013 became popular for its viral memes. It was a video sharing app where people put on funny and entertaining posts. Sadly, the app closed down in 2016 but to this day viral Vine memes still get referenced.

E-girls/ E-boys late 2010s

The E-boy and E-girl trend started in the late 2010's, their look is inspired by skater culture, Anime, hip-hop, K-pop, and rave. It is characterized by dark colours too.

The popular app Tik tok is a social media platform where you can make short videos, like, and comment on other videos. The app known as Musical.ly was bought by Bytedance 2017 and then merged with Tik tok to create the current Tik tok that we know. It only really blew up in 2019.

Tik tok is good as it provides entertainment and sometimes helps small artists get big when their song becomes very used on the app to the point it becomes a trend, but also bad because of all the negativity on the platform and that it's very addicting because the content is never ending so their videos will never stop loading and you'll find yourself scrolling videos after videos without realizing.

Cancel culture mid 2019

Cancelling is a recent trend that often tends to be toxic. It consists of "cancelling" someone by "ending them", an example is by ending the career of an influencer: they lose most of their fans and get looked at badly by the online community.

People can be cancelled for something they did or said. Sometimes the person actually deserves to be cancelled but often people try to cancel them for ridiculous reasons or just try to defame them. People who get cancelled are usually celebrities and influencers. It is extremely present on Twitter but also on other social media platforms. The term "cancelling" can also be used in a jokingly context.

VSCO Girls 2019- 2020

The fashion trend is based on a filter app called VSCO, that's where the name came from. VSCO Girls fashion consists of oversized T-shirts, Birkenstocks, cancan, scrunchies and Hydroflask along with a metal straw.

VSCO Girls are also known for their engagement with saving the turtles by using metal straws instead of plastic ones and the famous "sksksksk" catchphrase.

by Bachir Niasse

* In the United States, Christmas is also observed on December 25th.

What do we do at Christmas?

- go to the church
- decorate our house
- exchange presents
- visit our family

What is Christmas ?

1. Christmas is celebrated to remember the birth of Jesus Christ, who Christians believe is the Son of God. The name 'Christmas' comes from the Mass of Christ (or Jesus). A Mass service (which is sometimes called Communion or Eucharist) is where Christians remember that Jesus died for us and then came back to life.

2. Now, Christmas is more a fun celebration with friends, and family.

What don't rich people have that poor people do have?

A man is on a trip. He wants to get a haircut. There are only two barbers in a town: Barber 'm' and Barber 'n'. Barber 'm' has a really messy barber shop and a bad haircut but Barber 'n' has a neat barber shop and a good-looking haircut. Which barber should he choose?

He should choose Barber 'n' because barbers don't know how to cut their own hair which means that it is Barber 'n' who did the bad haircut.

einsteins TWIN PARADOX

On a pair of twin's 20th birthday, they volunteer for a science experiment.

One of the twins is to be sent to outer space to a planet 10 light years away traveling just a bit under the speed of light.

speed of light: 299 792 458 m/s

We have a couple of informations on the matter:

- the faster an object moves through space, the slower it moves through time
- at whatever speed they're going, the journey shouldn't take more than 23 years time from Earth's point of view

To understand this further, we use an equation called the Lorentz Factor:

$$\gamma = \frac{1}{\sqrt{1 - \frac{v^2}{c^2}}} \quad / \quad \gamma = \frac{1}{\sqrt{1 - (\frac{v}{c})^2}}$$

This theory suggests that the twin on Earth will be years older when the traveler gets back.

The second theory however, says that technically the traveler's spaceship is standing still, the universe moving around it, which means that the traveler is going to be the older twin when they reunite.

This thought experiment has never been put into practice, but the two theories are scientifically correct and are still heavily debated between scientists and mathematicians. to this day. No one has thought of a definite answer to this problem, but maybe the answer lies with one brilliant mind out there, it could be you!
