

Emma Davies came to our class

On October 21st we welcomed Emma Davies, a 19-year-old English student in our class.

Actually she had come to Senegal for one month to improve her French by working in a company belonging to the Nexus group. In our class she had to speak her mother tongue – English and talk about herself, her family, her life and hobbies.

She lives in London, near Hampton Court. She has 2 brothers Ben, 17 and Toby, 12. She also has a cat Pepper and a dog. She's doing her A'levels (like our baccalaureat) in London. Her studies are mainly focused on languages (French and German) and on drama.

She plays netball and occasionally football with her 2 brothers and tennis. She likes a lot of musicians, especially Ed Sheeran and the Beatles.

She doesn't mind the rain, she quite enjoys it. She loves watching the movie "Moulin Rouge"

She has already visited the south of France and the Alpes.

This is the second time she has come to Senegal and she says that she loves our country. Her best moment was when she was at the beach with Nicole and her brother, there was a big wave and she fell on the sand. She just loves "yassa poulet" and finds all the Senegalese dishes extremely tasteful.

We were quite happy to have her in our class. She was very nice and she had a perfect and typically English accent. It was a good experience for us. We could understand everything she said and we would like to have her in the class again. It was really great to communicate with a native speaker.
